JOHN RICKETTS MARRIED

John Ricketts, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Ricketts, of this county, and Miss Grace Yancey were married at the home of the bride in Owenton, Ky., on March 3rd. They will reside at the groom's adopted home at Bellevue, Mo. The groom was born and reared in this county, and is a splendid young farmer with a host of friends who will be interested to learn of his wedding. He is a graduate of the Agricultural department of the University of Kentucky, where he graduated with honors, and is said to be one of the best posted young farmers of this county. His bride is said to be a very charming young lady, and quite popular in her home city.

DON'T FAIL TO ATTEND

E. L. Harrison, of Lexington, president of the Farmers Educational and Co-operative Union of America for the State of Kentucky, will address the farmers of this county at the courthouse Saturday afternoon at one o'clock. He is said to be a very interesting talker, and it is understood at this meeting plans will be perfected for the organization of a local farmers' union to be a link to this great organization. It seems the farmers are forced to organize to protect themselves from the tobacco and other trusts. DON'T FAIL TO ATTEND.

WILL GRADUATE FROM U. OF K. LAW SCHOOL

Thomas L. Grubbs, son of Hon. and Mrs. Charles D. Grubbs, of this city, will be graduated from the law school of the University of Kentucky in June. At the University Tom is a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, of Phi Alpha Delta Fraternity, Mystic 13, Henry Clay Law Society and Economics Club. He won athletic "K's" in baseball in the years 1915, 1916 and 1917 when he was a pitcher of note on the varsity team. Because of his high scholastic standing and his interest and attainment in student activities, Tom Grubbs is one of the most out-standing and popular students at the University.

TRADE FARMS

W. S. Hamilton has sold his farm of about 100 acres on the Lulbegrud pike to W. E. Jones for a consideration of $250 per acre and then bought the Jones place of 49 1-2 acres on the Hinkston pike for a consideration of $600 per acre. This trade was made through the agency of W. Hoffman Wood.

BAPTIST REVIVAL

The local Baptist church is happy to announce that Dr. A. J. Dew is to be here in a revival service beginning September 5th. Dr. Dew will hold a meeting at the First church at Lexington shortly before coming here. He recently preached for two weeks at Winchester.

The coming of Dr. Dew is awaited with happy anticipation on the part of those who know him.

The following is a report of a meeting just closed by Dr. Dew in Alabama:

(From Rev. A. J. Preston, Andalusia, Alabama.)

"Dr. J. H. Dew, of Ridgecrest, N. C., has just closed a great meeting with Andalusia Baptist church. The visible results of the meeting were 94 accessions, a nice purse for Dr. Dew and $600 per year added to the pastor's salary, and the church was greatly strengthened spiritually. The other churches will also receive a number of members and were otherwise greatly helped. Dr. Dew is truly a great preacher. He is simple and direct, forceful and powerful in the presentation of the truth. He condemns sin of every form, but never fails to give the remedy. He believes that Jesus Christ alone can save men and that Christ can and will save any man and all men who will trust him. He is plain in his statement of the principles of the gospel, passionate in his love of souls and devotion to Christ, earnest in prayer and fervent in spirit. He won the hearts of our people, and by a unanimous vote we have requested him to return to us for another meeting."

WE THANK YOU

Laurel friends of Mrs. Mary C. Ayres, widow of the late Col. Mett Ayres, publisher of the Daily Leader until his death here about three years ago, will be glad to know that she is making a big success in the newspaper field herself. A current issue of the Mt. Sterling Advocate, at Mt. Sterling, Ky., has at the head of the editorial column, "Mrs. Mary C. Ayres, local news editor."

The result of Mrs. Ayres' work is evident on each of the paper's eight pages. The paper is filled with news of all kinds written in an interesting style. Those who know Mrs. Ayres predict a bright future for her in the newspaper field.—Laurel (Miss.) Daily Leader.

MOVE TO THIS CITY

Hornee Lane and family, of Owingsville, who recently purchased of C. M. Ratliff his residence on Clay street, moved to their new home today. Mr. Ratliff and his daughter, Miss Carolyn Ratliff left yesterday for Lexington, where they have purchased property and will make their future home.

TAKING HIS STAND

A NEW DEPARTURE

The Federal Reserve Board has granted the Traders National Bank the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator, registrar of stocks and bonds, guardian of estates, receiver, committee of estates of lunatics, or in any other fiduciary capacity in which state banks, trust companies or other corporations which come into competition with national banks are permitted to act under the laws of the State of Kentucky, the exercise of such rights to be subject to the provisions of the Federal Reserve Act, and the regulations of the Federal Reserve Board.

The adding of this trust department will be a welcome addition to the banking facilities of this city and the public is sure to take advantage of the Traders' new venture.

MANY ARRESTS MADE

Policeman Stockdale has made quite a number of arrests during the past ten days for violating traffic regulations. Practically all of the offenders plead guilty when presented in police court and were given fines. Policeman Stockdale is doing all in his power to see that the laws in regard to motor vehicles are obeyed and in the performance of this duty deserves the commendation of the public.

FARNUM COMING IN NEW FOX PRODUCTION

William Farnum again will be seen in a beautiful William Fox production, "Heart Strings," which will come to the Tabb Theatre on Friday. It is said that "Heart Strings" surpasses in some ways every other play in which this noted star has appeared. It tells the story of a brother's great sacrifice for the little sister whom he adores. The early scenes are laid in the beautiful Laurentian Valley of Quebec. From there the action moves to New York's famous "Greenwich Village," the abode of artists, musicians, genius and near-genius. Then to the home of a millionaire, and again back to the peaceful village of the French Canadians.

The story is one in which laughter and tears are intermingled. Big scenes which stir the consciousness and play upon the heart-strings of humanity abound.

Loyalty can't be bought, but it won't exist forever on indifferent appreciation.

HANGING MEASURE

PASSED IN HOUSE 68 TO 16

The House of Representatives yesterday passed the bill of Representative Arch Hamilton, of Fayette county, to provide that a prisoner, convicted of criminal assault, shall be hanged in the county where the crime was committed by the vote of 68 to 16. An amendment offered, and accepted by the author, provides that the execution be within an enclosure provided by the county and limits the attendance to not more than 100.

The bill will be reported to the Senate tomorrow and it is generally believed that it will meet with little or no opposition there. The Senate last week killed a similar bill, but several Senators who opposed the measure at that time have signified their intention of supporting the Hamilton measure.

LOCKETT ELECTROCUTED

At 4:14 o'clock this morning Will Lockett, confessed slayer of Geneva Haulman and four other women, entered the death chair at Eddyville prison. The electrodes were placed about his body and two currents, each carrying 2,100 volts of electricity, were thrown on. The times of the two currents were 72 and 76 seconds. The switch was thrown by Chief Engineer Collier and at 4:52 o'clock the prison physician, Hussey, pronounced the prisoner dead.

MOVE TO LEXINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Leahy, who have made their home in this city for several years, have gone to Lexington to live. Mr. Leahy will continue his business here, making the trip from Lexington each day.

A girl doesn't care who knows her real age when she is under 18 or over 30.

WILL ENGAGE IN OTHER BUSINESS ENTERPRISE

Mr. W. T. Hunt, who has for the past three years operated a cream buying station in this city, has sold out his business to Swift & Co., and just as soon as the transfer can be made will engage in another line of business, the nature of which he declines to make public just at the present time. However, his new undertaking is known to be a lucrative one.

The retirement of Mr. Hunt from the cream business will be regretted by hundreds of cream producers throughout this and adjoining counties where he has enjoyed an immense patronage. His station here was known in creamery circles as the largest single cream buying station in Kentucky, and during the three years he has been in business has paid to the farmers and their wives throughout this section more than $200,000. He is the pioneer cream man of this county and has been successful from the start, and is operating the only cream buying station in the county. Messrs. Swift & Co., are now making arrangements for the continuance of this successful station and Mr. Hunt will manage same until such arrangements are completed. It is said that Swift & Co., in the near future, intend to operate a poultry business here in connection with the cream business.

COAL SHORTAGE ACUTE

The coal shortage here has become acute and there is practically no supply on hand. The car shortage is said to be largely responsible for the condition, but it is reported some coal ordered by local firms is being diverted to railroad purposes. Considerable suffering among the poorer classes has been reported. The J. P. Taylor Tobacco Co. had a car of coal on the tracks here Monday for use in its redrying plant which it turned over to the public. Only a limited amount was sold to a customer and much suffering was alleviated.

PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

John M. Gatewood has sold his home on E. High street to Mrs. Rosa Lee Howard and has bought the H. C. Ledford place on North Maysville street, better known as the old Laughlin home. Both pieces of property are very desirable, and the price paid in each transaction is reported to be $10,000.

SELLS LEWIS FARM

Noble McDonald has sold his farm of 173 acres on the Owingsville pike known as the Lewis farm, to W. H. Thomas for a reported price of $400 per acre. Possession will be given this month. Mr. McDonald and family have purchased a farm in Clark county and will move there to reside.

HALF MILLION

DOLLAR OIL DEAL

Announcement has been made of the consummation of a deal between the Flesher Petroleum Company and the Superior Oil Company, by which the Superior Oil Company acquired all the Lee county holdings of Flesher Petroleum Company for $500,000 cash.

The property acquired consists of the production of the Flesher Petroleum Company on about 1,400 acres in the Hell Creek section, and amounting to approximately 200 barrels a day, exclusive of the royalty.

The directors of the Flesher Petroleum Company at a meeting on Monday afternoon declared a dividend of twenty-five per cent. as of the stockholders of record as of March twentieth.

This will be good news to citizens of Montgomery county, where a majority of this stock is owned.

FIRE SWEEPS PARIS BUSINESS SECTION

Fire of undetermined origin did damage estimated at $26,500.00 in the heart of Paris yesterday morning.

The fire started on the second floor of Corbin's barber shop between Fourth and Fifth streets, and spread to the adjacent building. Gatewood's confectionery next door, caught fire. The residence of the late "Kid" Stout caught and the fire then spread to the Fair Store, then to the tin shop of Mayor E. B. January. The upper floors of the buildings were damaged and the smoke and water damage will be heavy.

WILL GIVE BENEFIT

The Sunday School Class of Mrs. George Snyder, will give a benefit picture show at the Tabb next Tuesday night, presenting Billie Burke in "Sadie Love." There will be special music and the picture is said to be most excellent.

Mrs. Snyder's class has undertaken the support of a little girl in the orphanage at Louisville, and the proceeds of the benefit will be used for that purpose. Tickets are now being sold.

THE FAIR

NEW OIL STOCK GAME IS BARED

Newcastle, Ind., February—Stock salesmen in large numbers have recently come to this part of Indiana, selling securities in oil marketing enterprises, which aim at the wholesale establishment of gasoline service stations. The salesmen have recently been in this city, Cambridge City, Richmond and other eastern Indiana cities and in some places have succeeded in interesting considerable money in the venture.

The plan is to erect a service station after selling stock. The stockholders are to receive "operation certificates," which provide that at the end of each month the sum of 1 cent on each gallon of gasoline sold will be refunded to the holders of these certificates.

The National Petroleum News, an oil paper published at Cleveland, Ohio, recently published an article concerning similar promotion companies, says "these enterprises as yet are apparently almost entirely on a stock sales basis. They are being directed in every case by men, who are not at all familiar with any phase of the oil business."

The plan, according to the oil paper, originated in Iowa and has spread exceedingly fast to other states. As far as is known, this part of the State is the first to be visited by the promoters. The Petroleum News says:

"Their method of procedure is to throw a gang of salesmen into the small towns and sell to the farmers and merchants what they call 'operating certificates,' in most cases for $250 apiece. In return, the company agrees to establish in those towns service stations and to deposit in a local bank 1 cent a gallon for all gasoline sales and 5 per cent. of the gross sales of oils, greases and what automobile accessories are carried.

"Certificate holders are to be paid back monthly from this sum. The company agrees to pay back in this manner $500 for each $250 secured; but it sets no time limit within which such payments must be paid in full. It could be done in ten years or fifty years or 100 years and still the company would still live up to its contract."

The paper points out that in Le Claire, Ia., a service station of this character was established, the company selling twenty-three operating certificates, thus raising the sum of $6,750 to operate the station. No sum is specified as to the amount of money that will be invested in erecting the station, and it is pointed out that most of the money could readily go to the stock salesmen. The Le Claire station was the first erected by one of these companies, it is said, and the best week's business was 250 gallons of gasoline. According to the oil paper one of the stockholders received $2.01 on his investment for five months.

The Petroleum News says that the station must buy their products from competing companies, because they own no oil lands or leases and in selling the products they must meet competition and at the same time pay the stockholders 1 cent a gallon on the gasoline.—Evansville Courier.

COUNTRY WOMEN HAVE EXCHANGE

A committee, composed of Mrs. A. S. Hart, Mrs. Judson Anderson, Mrs. Prewitt Young, Mrs. Charles Highland, Mrs. Alice Gillispie and Mrs. Dan Welsh, were in charge of the second of a series of exchanges which are held on Saturdays by the Country Women's Club in the Petry building. Dressed fowls, fresh country butter, eggs, cakes, pies, salads, and the most delicious of home made candies were among the many things sold and the sum of $160 was realized which will be used for the benefit of the Rest Room.

Too many of the good women of today imagine that they could be the young girl's critic instead of her model.

Seven year old Stewarts still running

The life of high grade Stewarts has not yet been determined. The seven-year-old Stewarts are giving excellent satisfaction today—will probably last for years to come.

There are hundreds of firms who first bought one Stewart, then two, then three and so on, until they have large fleets.

And these high-grade Stewart trucks cost $200.00 to $300.00 less than the average price of other trucks.

The tire mileage of Stewarts is really wonderful—gasoline and oil consumption is low. High-grade Stewarts are almost strangers to the repair shop.

The success of thousands of high-grade Stewarts in use throughout the world in almost every line of business, has made the Stewart factory one of the world's leaders in truck building.

You don't experiment when you buy a Stewart.

23 1-2 HOURS LEAVE
Remember that delightfully clever story by Mary Roberts Rinehart that appeared some time ago in the Saturday Evening Post? 'Twenty-three and a Half Hours Leave' was the name of it. Sure you remember it, for even if you didn't read it, you heard all your friends talking about it. It was about a rookie sergeant who made a bet that he would have breakfast with the General. And he had twenty-three and a half hours to accomplish his purpose. Who he started he didn't have the faintest idea how he was going to get way with it. But he did it, and won the general's daughter besides.

Well, Thomas H. Ince has made a corking picture out of it. It's exactly the right medium with which to introduce his two new stars, Douglas MacLean and Doris May, whom you have probably read about. It gives them both excellent parts. We're showing it tonight. The picture is a Paramount-Airraft, made under Ince supervision.

You'll enjoy it better even than you enjoyed the story, which is saying a lot, isn't it?

Yours,

DELIGHTFUL SCREEN STORY

Mary Roberts Rinehart Helps New Starring Team to Success

That prolific and delightful writer of short stories and novels, Mary Roberts Rinehart is the connecting link by which Doris May and Douglas MacLean make their debut before local screen lovers as a co-starring team at the Tabb. The picture was made by Thomas H. Ince from Mrs. Rinehart's humorous story of army camp life, "Twenty-three and a Half Hours' Leave," which appeared first in a popular magazine. By a coincidence both Mrs. Rinehart and Douglas MacLean were born in Pittsburgh. The author is well known to the public as responsible for such successful novels as "The Circular Staircase," "K," and "The Man in Upper Ten." "Bay, the Suh-Deh" and "Tish" are her creations and are familiar names to magazine readers. She was co-author of the famous farce, "Seven Days." Mrs. Rinehart is the wife of a prominent Pittsburgh physician and has a son who made a distinguished record for himself as an army officer in the war. At the Tabb Thursday.

WORK WILL REDUCE THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

In our opinion the only solution for the High Cost of Living is "Work." In every large population center strikes for shorter hours and higher wages occur almost daily. If this country is to ever get back on a pre-war basis it must go to work, the "boss" and every man in his employ. Labor is now being paid more than ever before dreamed of in the history of the world and what is the result? It takes practically all of it to live—the average laboring man is no better off today with wages doubled than he was ten years ago, and if conditions are to be bettered we must ALL go to WORK! Working for shorter hours will never accomplish the desired goal, for every time working hours are shortened the prices of the commodities affected are necessarily advanced to meet operating expenses. We cannot simply believe if labor worked the same number of hours it did five years ago, living conditions could be reduced one-third within a few months.

THE NEW HOTEL PROJECT

Will some one kindly tell us what has become of the new hotel agitated for Mt. Sterling for so long? If there ever was anything needed in the history of this city, it is a modern hotel. All that is needed to secure the funds to erect one, is a leader. We believe local capital would be responsive to such a proposition—in fact have heard a number of our leading citizens state that their opinions coincided with ours in this regard. Isn't there some enterprising, public-spirited citizen who desires to make a safe investment and at the same time be of real service to the community and further such a movement?

"HEART STRINGS," NEW FOX PICTURE COMING

"Heart Strings" is the significant name of the latest vehicle of William Farnum, the famous star in this new William Fox picture, which will be shown at the Tugh Theatre on Friday for a run of one day. It is the story of a great musician, a violinist, who plays upon the heart-strings of humanity. In his rendition of the part of Pierre Fontaine, a man whose love for an only sister causes him to set aside ambition and how to adjust circumstances. William Farnum is said to have made a new record for himself in masterful artistry. The story is alive with thrilling interest from beginning to end; and the tense moments are said to keep the audience keyed up to a high pitch of enthusiastic interest during the entire performance. In the cast with Mr. Farnum are

Gladys Cohen, Betty Hobbins, Kate Blackie, Paul Cazenove, Robert Cam and Rowland G. Edwards. Henry Albert Phillips is the author of the story. E. Lloyd Sheldon wrote the scenario and the play was directed by J. Gordon Edwards. Also will be shown the next episode of "Smashing Barriers."

THE SICK

Mrs. Josh Owings has been quite ill of influenza. Harry Larsen has been quite ill for the past two weeks at his home on Richmond avenue. Miss Clara Stamper, who has been confined to her home the past two weeks with the flu, will soon be able to return to her position at the Mt. Sterling National Bank. Mrs. Virgil Donohue is able to be out after an attack of the flu.

FLORIDA CONGRESSMAN CHAMP OF "SPONGERS"

If official Washington ever needs a chairman for a committee on keeping "political slates" clean, it surely would select Congressman Herbert J. Drane of Florida. At any rate he would be literally equipped to materially aid his committeemen. Mr. Drane is from Tarpon Springs, Fla., said to be the largest sponge market in the world. At his office in Washington his office walls and desk are covered with sponges of every size and variety. The photo shows him with some of the choice specimens.

SAVE A CHEER AND A HALF FOR THE VILLAIN

Some years ago, William Lockaye, the well known actor, was playing the part of a rich cruel and profiteering landlord in a play which toured the country. In his rendition of the part, Mr. Lockaye, in baseball parlance, "had everything," the coal black mustache, the piercing eye, the gold cigarette case and the cold venomous heartlessness which the part demanded and he made it convincing.

When the play was produced in San Francisco it was attended in a body by a large number of University of California students. At the end of the first act, the college contingent, cheering for the triumph of virtue, rose and announced in unison "We do not like the villain." During the second act, that antipathy continued and again there came the shouted verdict, "We do not like the villain." When the curtain fell on the third act with the villain in command of the situation, the students rose from their seats, faced the audience and chanted "We do not like the villain. We will not give him three cheers; we will give him a cheer and a half. Hooray! Hooray!"

Thousands of Americans are following the example of the collegians today. They do not like the profiteer. The high prices of necessities rankles in their bosoms, they believe in the ultimate triumph of the purchasing power of the dollar. They say they do not like the villain, but they are giving at least a cheer and a half for the profiteer every day of their lives. They are doing it by reckless spending, waste, extravagance and failure to save.

There is nothing more encouraging to the profiteer than the half-hearted ring of needlessly spent coins on the counters. When people make purchases of luxuries and extravagances, they check the production of necessities which would enable supply to catch up with demand and force reduction of prices.

There is nothing so disheartening to the profiteer than the wise restriction of buying to necessities, the careful and regular saving of a part of each income and the investment in government savings securities, where it will have an immediate and permanent effect in stabilizing economic and business conditions.

In the majority of the old time melodramas the villain was foiled by the discovery and production of the missing will. It lies in your power to frustrate the machinations of the profiteering villain in the High Cost of Living Melodrama. You can produce the missing will. It is the will to save regularly, to buy carefully, to eliminate waste and to invest savings in sound securities, such as War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates.

You do not have to wait until the last act to produce this will, either. If you do, the melodrama, with a

HOOVER WILLING TO SERVE IF REALLY CALLED UPON

Herbert C. Hoover, in a letter received by Ralph Arnold, of Los Angeles, New York representative of the "Make Hoover President Club," of California, declared he was not seeking office, that his ambition is to remain a common citizen, but that he believed, he, "like every other citizen, should always be ready for service when really called upon."

Mr. Hoover's letter followed action of a group of prominent Californians residing in New York in appointing a committee to go to Washington to ask Mr. Hoover to make known his position. The committee included Mark Regna, oil administrator during the war.

Asserting that while "such proposals are indeed a great honor, I feel that I cannot alter the attitude that I have consistently preserved," Mr. Hoover's letter said in part:

"I am an independent progressive in the issues before us today. I think that at this time the issues before the country transcend partisanship. It is well known that I was a progressive Republican before the war, and, I think rightly, a non-partisan during my war service. The issues confronting us are new and the alignment upon them has not yet been made by the great parties. I still object as much to the reactionary group in the Republican party as I do to the radical group in the Democratic party.

"I am not seeking public office, and, consulting my own personal inclinations, I do not want public office. I cannot prevent any citizen or group of citizens from agitating that I should take public office, but I cannot conscientiously participate in any organization to that end.

"I belong to a group which thinks that the American people should select its own officials at its own initiative and volition and that resent the manufacture of officials by machine methods. I feel sure that if I entered the race for nomination of the presidency and undertook to solicit and spend the cost of propaganda and organization, this would be in itself a negative of the right American instinct, because of the obligations that it all implies."

"I thoroughly believe that I, like any other citizen, should always be ready for service when really called upon, but to go out and try to persuade the public to call me is opposed to my every instinct."

Every bride expects to spend more with the Department Stores than she does with the Grocery Store, and more with the Milliner Shop than she does with the Butcher Shop. But it doesn't take her long to discover that she has to reverse the process.

A woman will endure a great deal, rather than cut in on her personal appearances. Women realize the power of tears, but the men are satisfied they would cry oftener if it didn't make their eyes red.

MOTION PICTURES ARE SILENT TEACHERS

All kinds of pictures teach silently. Motion pictures teach more impressively than painted pictures. Parents must realize the fact that the movies are teaching our children either good or evil. This is because motion pictures possess in a marked degree, the first quality essential to teaching—the element of interest. They often are accepted by children as greater authority than home, school or church.

Psychologists agree that it is the detail which instructs, rather than the long-drawn out theme. A picture may end wholesomely and yet be unwholesome in its effect, if every detail is not pure. A thread of good running through a story is not sufficient. The texture must be all good, if the effect is to be all good.

Children love the story depicted. They temporarily become the villain or hero, as the ease may be, so strong is their imagination and power to project themselves into the story. Instruction in crime educates our young people to become criminals. The constant portrayal of evil "popularizes evil." A child is usually ready to do what he sees everybody else doing.

Constantly to inject into the mind thoughts of killing, of death, of anger, jealousy and revenge, of suffering, both mental and physical, is to stifle tenderness and sympathy. To see suffering without making an effort to relieve that suffering, reacts unwholesomely upon the spectator.

Vulgarity, immodesty and situations generally termed as "slapstick" have a tendency to lower the standard of taste, thus weakening the moral fibre. At first children do not understand many suggestive situations, but the constant portrayal of the same, finally enlightens them. Far more children than we are aware, understand these suggestions and questioning a child on this subject rarely secures a frank statement of his knowledge.

Lurid posters displayed outside a motion picture theater, brand the house as a menace to the community and limit the audience. Many people will not enter a theater displaying such posters. The theater is an eyecore to the very patrons whom the manager seeks to attract. The peculiar fact is, that the posters often are not a true representation of the picture on the screen. Many children crowd about these posters drinking in every degrading detail, even though they do not attend the performance.

The best kind of censorship is selection, which builds up the things which are worth while to the final exclusion of the worthless.

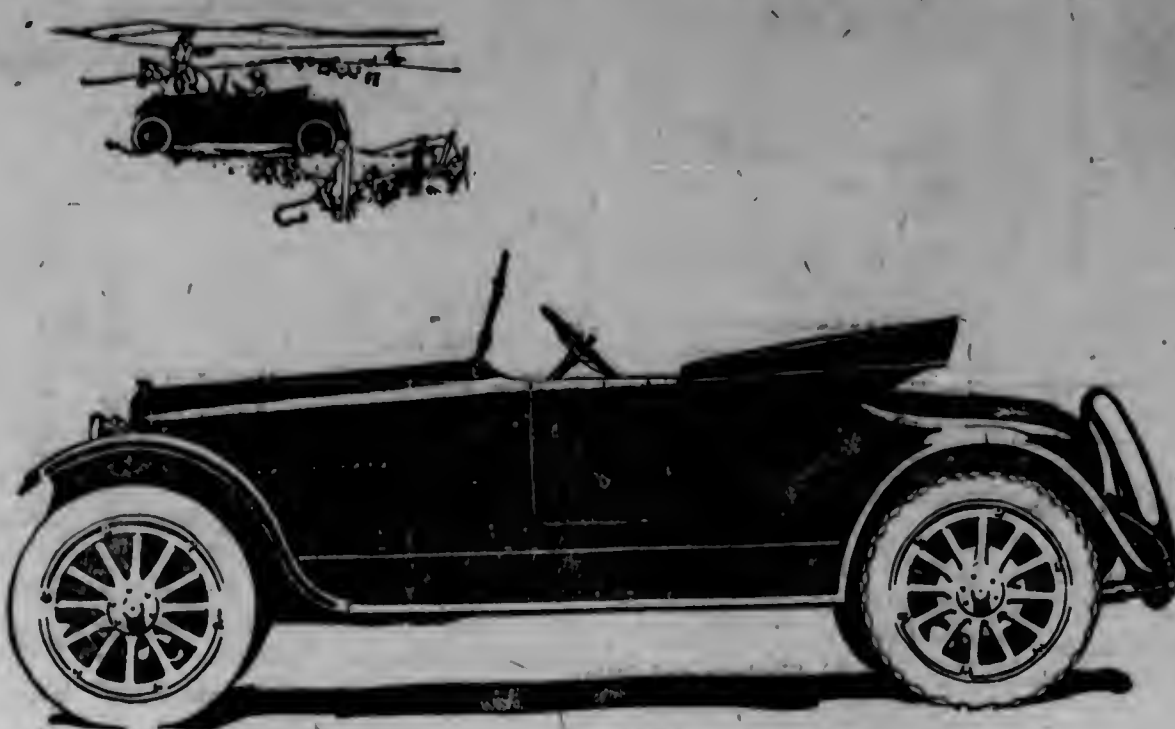

The establishment of carefully planned children's matinees for little children and family programs for adolescents, furnishes a counter attraction. Pictures on the plane of the child's thinking are, after all, more attractive to them and persistent effort in this method of exhibiting wholesome films will help to restore the poise and culture which our over-stimulated children are now in danger of losing.

COMPULSORY WORK MEASURE PASSED BY STATE SENATE

Able-bodied men of Kentucky who do not want to work must be made to work, and the rule is just as good in time of peace as in time of war, the Senate decided Monday in passing a bill drawn toward that end by Senator R. C. Simmons, of Covington.

The bill, which passed by a vote of 30 to 6, provides for continuation of the war-time emergency act created for the duration of the war only. Under the bill every able-bodied male in the State between the ages of 16 and 50 who fails to work at least 36 hours a week shall be held a vagrant.

The punishment is set at a fine of $20 to $100, and in addition the offender must work at least 60 days on the public roads or streets, or on some other public work of the county or municipality in which he is convicted. An amount equal to one-half of the fair value of such labor is required by the bill to be paid by the county or municipality toward the support of any persons dependent on the vagrant.

TO CLUB WOMEN OF KENTUCKY

Thursday, March 5th, 1920, will long be remembered as one of the darkest days in Kentucky's history. It was on that day that Kentucky surrendered her leadership in the illiteracy work in which she ranked first in the nation, and took a step which will put her back fifty years. The Evening School Bill was called up in the House by our enemies without our having a moment's notice or a single chance at its defense and was tabled, which, as you know, defeats a bill.

It has been announced through the press of the State that the club women were coming to Frankfort in large numbers on March 10 in the interest of this bill, and the enemies of the measure choked it off in order to prevent their being heard. These tactics employed by administration leaders to prevent Kentucky's patriotic women from gathering here in the interest of a cause they loved, and in which they had invested $22,000, are unparalleled in history. It is an unheard of thing to call up a bill in this manner without giving the advocates of the measure the chance to marshal their forces. The only injustice that could equal it, it seems, would be the sentencing of a prisoner without trial. Much has been said in Kentucky recently about justice and the majesty of the law. It seems inconceivable that such a scheme as this to prevent Kentucky's women from being heard could be concocted.

We might go on and pass this bill through the Senate, but in that event it could only be returned to the House through the same committee which took the advantage of us before. We have reason to believe that they would carry this injustice to the limit.

The eyes of the educators and the club women of the whole nation have been on us during this fight. It seems most grievous to think that just at this time, when the world has awakened to the evil of illiteracy and is clamoring for the education of adults that our State should be the only quitter, yet it will be a proud record for our Federation of Women's Clubs that we fought for the life of the work and would have fought longer had our opportunity not been cut off in a manner so unfair.

We should now consecrate ourselves to the one issue of reviving this work and redeeming our state.

Yours very sincerely,

Mrs. J. C. LAYNE.

Representative of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs on the Evening School Bill.

Broadway Farce

Playing much the same sort of role in which she proved so charming in "The Misleading Widow," Billie Burke is again the misjudged young wife who gets herself in and out of laughable messes in "Sadie Love," her new Paramount-Artcraft picture to be shown at the Tabb Theatre next Tuesday. The story was adapted from Avery Hopwood's well known Broadway farce by the same name. It centers around a vivacious girl who shortly after her marriage to a handsome Italian count, imagined herself in love with a "twin soul" with whom she had had an affair

KHAKI SCREEN COMEDY

New Ince Co-Stars to Appear in New Mary Roberts Rinehart Story

How many ex-doughboys while they were in the early training camp stage, found themselves mixed up in a screamingly funny entanglement, and made the remark, "Gee, they ought to put this in the movies." Well, Mary Roberts Rinehart wrote a story for a popular magazine called "Twenty-three and a Half Hours' Leave" about a happy-go-lucky cavalry sergeant who made a bet that he would eat breakfast with his colonel—and did it. A million or so readers laughed at the story and now the veteran producer, Thomas H. Ince, has made a motion picture out of it for his latest pair of stars, Doris May and Douglas McLean. The film is booked to be shown at the Tabb Theatre Thursday. It tells how Sergeant Bill Gray made the wager and not only broke muffins with the C. O., but also won the Colonel's daughter's heart. Which was the greater achievement, it will take the picture to show.

Restoring Elasticity of Rubber.

Rubber articles that have become hard recover their elasticity in a short time if placed in 3 per cent carbolic water or 3 per cent caustic solution. In the case of the carbolic solution it must not be forgotten that black goods exposed to it become gray. If it is desired to preserve the black or red color of the goods, that, too, can be done. A 1 per cent solution of pentasulphate of potash is employed. It is true that this smells unpleasant, but the restoration of elasticity is quite considerable.

Months of Winter.

Astronomically winter is reckoned to begin in northern latitudes when the sun enters Capricorn, or at the solstice (about December 21), and to end at the equinox in March; but in ordinary speech winter comprises the three coldest months—December, January and February, being reckoned the winter months in the United States, and November, December and January in Great Britain.

GENERAL EDWARDS FINDS PEACE ON OWN FARM

One of Uncle Sam's most successful military men, General C. B. Edwards, commander of the Northeastern Department and one of the most popular leaders of the A. E. F., is realizing one of his life's ambitions at last. He is farming. Gen. Edwards bought a farm at Westwood, Mass., where he has taken up a agricultural study seriously. Chopping wood, cutting, sawing and planning crops, he says he is happy at last. He is here shown with his favorite horse, "Laddie," as he appeared for the first time in "civilian" since 1917.
